About Taryn:

Taryn was born and raised in Kearney, NE. Her parents split when she was young, but she found strength in her tight relationships with her mother, father, and grandparents. That early life experience shaped her into the strong and compassionate woman she is today.

She enjoys reading immensely. For her, books provide an escape and the opportunity to live a thousand other lives. This love of storytelling reflects her strong empathy, which is also visible in how she treats others. Taryn enjoys building real connections and making people feel heard, whether at home with her children or at Streck, where she works as a Customer Service Representative.

She is a proud mother who had her first child at the age of sixteen. While that path came with challenges, it also gave her focus, determination, and a strong sense of purpose. Today, she holds an associate's degree in culinary arts and is working toward her bachelor's degree in Business Management and Leadership at Bellevue University. She hopes to complete this goal within the next year.

When asked how she wants to be remembered, Taryn simply says, "as a good person." That's who she is: a funny, kind, grounded woman who hopes to leave the world better than she found it. Between raising her kids, cuddling her dog, and chasing her dreams, she lives life with intention, with a quote she holds close: "Well-behaved women seldom make history."

Interview with Taryn Stiles

Can you tell me a little about your childhood and where you grew up?

I grew up mostly in Kearney, NE. I lived with my mom and dad, but they divorced when I was young. I lived with my mom until I was in middle school, then I moved in with my Dad and grandparents.

What are some of your biggest hobbies or passions?

I LOVE reading. I like the feeling of getting out of my shoes and stepping into someone else's for a while. It's like I get to live another life for a while.

What's one accomplishment you're really proud of?

I'm very proud of myself for getting my Culinary Arts degree... but, really proud that I have raised my kids to be good people.

How would your friends or family describe you?

It depends on who you ask. I can be loud with some people, and quiet with others. I think they'd find me funny, and hopefully think that I am a kind person.

What's something people might be surprised to learn about you?

That I was a teen mom. When I tell people at work that I had my first son at 16 years old, they are surprised.

What do you do for work, and what do you enjoy most about it?

I work as a Customer Service Representative at Streck. I enjoy being able to help people. I like it when I am able to go above and beyond for people. They are almost always extremely appreciative of it.

What's a goal you're working toward right now?

I am working on my bachelor's degree in Business Management and Leadership at Bellevue University. I will finish it by this time next year, hopefully.

Is there a quote or saying that really resonates with you?

Well-behaved women seldom make history.

What do you enjoy most about your everyday life?

My kids, and my dog. I enjoy watching my kids grow, and the comfort that my dog provides.

What's something you hope people remember about you?

That I was a good person. Even with my faults, I can only hope that I do more good than bad.
